United States has pursued in Mexico and obtaining their views on a subject of common interest to all.

The uncertainty that confronts the United States in regard to a policy based Powers lies in the fact that this Government will not under any circumstances seek the aid of the Governments on the other side of the Atlantic.

they acquiesce in the policy of the United States it will have to be voluntary. President Wilson is determined to maintain the traditional policy of this Government in taking the leadership in the affairs of the republics of the Western Hemisphere and will go so far only as to submit his plans for the approval of other is no secret here that doubt over the British attitude has been regarded as the chief stumbling block to any likelihood of starving Huerta financially out of the Mexican Presidency, and the Premier's speech does not seem to contain any statement that can be taken as committing Great Britain definitely on this

The information that has reached Washington has been very definite that Huerta has been receiving his funds recently from British interests which have large con cessions in Mexico. In fact, the feeting If this supply were cut off Huerta's hold would be short lived.

it is this uncertainty in regard to the attitude of powerful British interests and The possibility of other Governments declining to commit themselves flatly to the policy of the United States which lead many to believe that this effort on the part of the President will fail and that he will be obliged to turn in the end either to actual intervention by United States forces or a lifting of the embargo on arms and a tender of moral support to Carranza and his followers.

Of the two latter courses the Adminis tration, as told in THE SUN this morning. is leaning toward the lifting of the en bargo on arms. It cannot be said, how ever, that the President has made up his mind definitely on this subject, but he has been seeking the views of members of the Senate, who are in favor of it almost to a man

Senor Moheno's Note.

The full text of the note of the Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs, Querido Moheno, to the representatives of the for-Governments in Mexico was re ceived at the State Department to-day and was made public this evening

In this note Huerta informs the Govcraments of the world of the present condition of governmental affairs in Mexico learly that the recent election will be declared null, so far as the Presi dency is concerned, and pledges himself to continue his programme for the pactfication of the country pending the call ing of the Congress together and the holdof a new contest at the polls.

Huerta contends in this note that all of his acts, including the imprisonment of the members of the former Congress, were regular and in accordance with the powers given him under the constitution. This note was delivered to Charge O'Shaughnessy at Mexico city at the same time it was given to representatives of all other foreign Governments.

It is regarded here as Huerta's answer to the representations made by O'Shaughnessy on behalf of this Government in which Huerta was made to understand that President Wilson would expect him to eliminate himself from the situation. The fact that the State Department was willing to give this note out for publication indicated that they now have prac tically no hope that Huerta will yield unless it is by reason of financial embarrassments or as the result of force. The note in full will be found in another column.

Bryan's Attitude Outlined. It was learned to-day that Secretary

Bryan is bitterly opposed to the idea of lifting the embargo on arms along th Mexican border. Secretary Bryan in his talk with members of the Senate committee has contended that such an acwas not to be thought of in this age of enlightenment.

is generally predicted that if the committee continues to lean toward this course and it finally meet with the favor of President Wilson there 10 likely to be some, trouble with the Secretary of State.

President Wilson's friends made it clear to-day that he believes the utmost selfrestraint should be exercised on the part of the public in the present situation. He greatly deplores any efforts that may have the appearance of haste toward "crisis" on the part of observers of the Mexican situation.

In fact the Administration indicated to day that it felt that unofficial despatches and public conjecture are moving ahead faster than the Administration itself and that this tendency is certain to make the estuation more difficult to handle and to yield harmful results.

What the Administration asks for now on the part of the public is forbearance and restraint and faith in its ability and prudence to conduct the present delicate negotiations to a conclusion.

REPORT SIR LIONEL WON OVER.

Entire Diplomatic Corps Said Back Wilson's Policy.

It is said that the latter has materially changed his views and has been won ever to the view of the situation which is held by the Washington Administration. In fact it is believed that all the members of the diplomatic corps have pow the same opinion, although they permit the impression to be spread that they are not in favor of the Washington policy so as to preserve the popularity they enjoy here owing to their ostensible support of Huerta's stand against the United States.

The Capital Alarmed.

Mexico city is alarmed by the report that Memodity is alarmed by the report that Washington will lift the embargo on munitions of war for the rebels, dire consequences being predicted if this is done. Mexican Foreign Minister Declares That the Dictator Holds the Presidency by Warrant of the Constitution

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 .- Senor Moheno, the Mexican Foreign Minister, has transmitted the following note to the State through the American Charge d'Affaires at Mexico city :

"In conformity with provisions of ar ticle $1 of the Constitution and in view of the lack of a President or Vice-President and of the Secretary of State and Department of Foreign Relations, the provisional Presidency devolved upon the Secretary of State and the Department of Governacion, Gen. Victoriano Huerta, who from that time by the ministry of the law has dis charged the duties of the office.

Thus, in accord with the will of the Mexican people formally made man ifest in the Constitution of February 5, 1857, there remained established the Presidentia! succession and the unquestionable legality of the present Government. The Congress of the Union and the Supreme Court of Justice of the nation solemnly recognized without objection the new ruler.

In this way, the three branches of the Government continued the functions of whose conduct the Mexican people exercise the national sovereignty in accordance with articles 39 and 59 of the same Constitution

The Government Programme.

The political programme of the provisional Government, constituted in this manner from that time, had been defined perfectly and concentrated upon two fundamental propositions: To reestablish peace in order that extraordinary elections might be held in compliance with the already cited article 8) of the Constitution in order to turn over the Executive power to the one designated by the popular will at these elections, and to respect and make re spected the law.

In compliance with this programme. the Executive launched a call for ele tions, taking care that there should be fixed for their holding a time which he deemed prudent, not only that the preparatory work might be carried out. but also that the republic might return to a state of order which had been deeply disturbed in some of the northern frontier States and also, although in a much less degree, in other

"Acting in accord with the initiative of the Executive and in compliance with the constitutional precept quoted, the Congress of the union convoked special elections to be held October 26 past, since it was believed that by that time peace successfully would be established in all the republic and fair elections guaranteed

Trouble With the Deputies.

"In order to comply with the second of these proposals the Executive mane clear his respect for the other governmental powers, but unfortunately one of the houses of the legislative power the Chamber of Deputies, attempted in such manner to invade the prerogatives of the Executive as to refuse in some cases to recognize the judicia! power and the conduct of some of the members, who are shielded by their constitutional exemption from arrest and who publicly were fermenting and even leading the armed rebellion, reached such a pass as to make impossible harmonious action with the Executive without which any Government would go to pieces.

"That the President of the republic was forced to resoive to dissolve the Chamber of Deputies as a necessary measure for the salvation of the republic, foreseeing, as he did, the state of anarchy which inevitably would have been brought about if he had continued to tolerate revolution in the midst of one of the constituted branches of the Government, and as the Senate alone could not function constitutionally he declared the Congress dissolved.

But as it has never been the proposal of the Executive to govern outside the Constitution he took care immediately to convoke elections to constitute a new Congress, and solely in the meantime assume extraordinary faculties in the departments of Hacienda, Gobernacion and War, where such action was indispensable, and this was done with the solemn promise to give account of the use which he has made of such powers to the new Congress as soon as it shall be installed.

"It also was a motive of especial care and attention of the ad interim Governto respect and uphold the judicial power which continued without any let in its august mission of seeing that individual guarantees are respected, so that the march of the pub administration has continued without other obstacles than those which a state of internal strife, which even yet prevails in some portions of the republic, perforce brings with it.

Action of Congress Awaited.

"The elections of President and Vice-President of the republic and of Deputies and Senators to the Congress of the Union already have been held. Congress will be installed within a few days, and in accord with the Constitution will pass upon the election of President and Vice-President, and will render a decision as to their validity or in accordance with Article 78 of the Constitution, he could not be elected legally in a desire to avoid erroneous malevolent interpretations, and as there was not time to make known his views to the friends who were putting his name forward, he made a most solemn declaration before the honorable members of the diplomatic corps accredited near the government of this republic that the vote deposited for him in the ballot boxes would be null and no value, and that even in the event, legally impossible, that the new Congress should declare him elected President he would not accept the of-

The First Magistrate, inspired by his patriotic zeal, called together the candidates of the various parties contenders in the electorate struggle and in a solemn ceremony in the presence of the entire Cabinet repeated the declarations made before the diplomatic corps and called upon the candidates in the name of patriotism, of which they gave unquestionable proof, that they manifest solemnly before the nation that if any one of them should be appointed by the popular vote all the others should collaborate morally and patriotically, influencing their partisans that the President-elect should be respected and assisted in his functions whatever might be his party affiliation.

"And this they did, at the same time manifesting to the Mexican people that if none of the candidates obtained the number of valid votes to be President of the republic all would cooperate to sustain the constituted Government to the end that the popular will be consulted at a more propitious time; that is to say, when peace in the republic would permit citizens in all parts of the country freely to cast their votes.

Will Continue Pacification. "Now in view of the fact that through which the Government has re ceived there exists a vehement presumption that because of its having been impossible to carry on the voting in the number of polling places prescribed by law so that the election may be considered as the true manifestation the will of the people and it is fore seen that said Presidential election will be declared null, he wishes to make known once more to the country and to the whole world that, in accord with his determination, he will continue exerting himself for the pacification of the country in order to be able to guarantee the absolute freedom and efficiency of the new elections which Congress must

'As a necessary consequence of that declaration in the same manner he wishes to make known once more be-fore friends and outsiders that being respectful toward the law and persuaded that by virtue of his having oc-cupied the post of President of the republic while the election was being held he considers himself constitutionally impeded from being validly elected, he will on no account take into consideration the votes which may have been cast in his favor, and no matter what may be the resolution of Congress he will not accept in this case the conwill not accept in this case the constitutional Presidency of the republic

Relying, as the President does rely. on the solemn and important offer of the honorable citizens who figured as candidates for the Presidency and Vice-Presidency and who represent all the political parties of the republic, sure that the most perfect harmony will reign between the three Powers of the union and that the Governments of the world will recognize without exception that only the present Government can call new elections and guarantee their freedom and efficacy, he hopes to be able to fulfil easily within the period Congress shall designate his sacred duty of consulting the national desire to consecrate by the suffrage of the people the Executive who is to rule definitely the destinles of the Otherwise the realization of the Executive's programme would not be possible within a long period of time.

This programme consists of peace and legality, which are the only mediums in which the elections may become the expression of the true popular will, in which the individual native will, in which the individual native guarantees and in which the economic development of the republic may permit all social classes to gather the fruits of their labors and the products of their capital. Now comes a new method of filing

For years and years - ever since the first filing cabinet was made - there has been endless discussion as to the superiority of the Alphabetic and Numeric methods of filing.

Each had - and has - its advocates; each its critics. Now comes a new method of filing that combines many advantages of both the old methods; and has some advantages of its own. It is called the "Automatic Index." Because it indexes itself, automatically. With the "Automatic Index" it is easy to file letters correctly. It is difficult to file them incorrectly. Why? Because it checks itself. That, perhaps, is the best thing about it - the feature that sets it apart from any and all other filing methods. "Vertical Filing," sent on request. The best book on filing ever written.
